

Multi Sensory Story Telling (MSST) ' Winter'

Look XXX, it has been snowing this night. Look what a lot of snow!
Showing pictures of snow landscapes.

Do you feel like going for a walk in the garden? Let's put on our jacket, scarf and gloves than.
Putting on scarf, hat, gloves.
Let them feel the scarf, hat and gloves.

Of my God, what a cold wind!
Let them hear the wind or let them feel it by waving a cloth.

Look at the birds there, XXX. Let's give them some bread. They probably will be hungry.
Let them hear birds
Let them feel piece of bread.

Oh, it starts snowing again. How lovely!
Snowflakes of pieces of paper or cotton pads.

I'm getting cold and it becomes dark. Are you going back inside with me?
Feeling an icepack
Darken the room

Let us warm up nicely by the fireplace XXX.
Under a fleece blanket
Hearing and seeing flames

With a warm hot chocolate (or another warm drink).
Offering drink or piece of chocolate

Material needed: picture of snow landscape, scarf, hat, gloves, noise of wind, cloth to make wind, noise of birds, piece of bread, snowflakes, cold icepack, fleece blanket, noise/picture of open fire, warm drink/chocolate

More information: www.arteveldehogeschool.be/kronkels
Contact: ondersteuningscentrum.ergotherapie@arteveldehs.be